Police Retirement Committee Formed

A citizen's committee has been formed to promote the proposed Upland police retirement increase scheduled to go before Up-land voters on the March 5 municipal election ballot.

Under the proposed retirement plan, Upland police officers would receive a maximum of 2.7 percent of their pay for each year of service. The plan also specifies that an officer will receive no more than 75 percent of his annual pay in annual retirement compensa-

The increase in the retirement benefits would cost taxpayers $44,000 in 1974-75 and would raise the tax rate 5 1/2 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

"In the past we have lost good men to other police agencies because of better benefits," said Richard R. Riley, chairperson of the citizen's committee. "An improved police retirement plan will contribute substantially in retaining these . . . officers."

Riley pointed out that the crime rate in Upland has declined in the last year and said that the police department has saved the city money with economy-minded pol-

At the same time, Riley said inequities exist in the police department's retirement program. He said that an officer who begins service at age 23 and re-

Architecture Commission Approves Seven Items

Councilman Hawkins To Seek 4th Council Term

Councilman A.M. (Max) Haw-kins, 58, 1177 Redding Way, is seeking his fourth term as councilman for the City of Upland.

Hawkins, a former citrus rancher in the Upland area for 24 years, is employed now as an appraiser for Upland Savings and Loan Association, Hawkins has served on the council for 12 years. He served as Mayor for two years 1964-65. Previous to his council position, Hawkins served on the Planning Commission for three years. The 51 year resident has cited his long term in office as an asset to the city. Hawkins said, "Ex-perience is considered to be the best teacher. My three years on the Planning Commission and twelve years on the City Council makes me the most experienced person on the Council.

Considered one of the "Old Timers" of Upland, Hawkins be-lieves the down-town area of Upland should be "on their own" to survive in the face of expanding commercial centers on the outskirts of the city.

"Whether they (the down-town merchants) make it or not is up to them," Hawkins said. He said it was not the city's job to promote the down-town area.

Concerning the proposed police retirement fund contained on the March 5 ballot, Hawkins said, "I'm neutral on that." When they approached the council during a budget session we said we couldn't afford it. They asked if they could put it on the ballot and we agreed." Hawkins said he would see what the voters say about the retirement mea-

As part of his statement of qualifications, Hawki ns said, "One of our most important problems is water. The expansion of our water storage and distribution system is necessary to continue to match our growth. For many years the city has been acquiring water stock in the two irrigation companies, San Antonio Water Co. and West End Consolidated Water Co. As chairman of the Water and Sewer Committee I am a representative from the City on both of these water companies' board of directors. Relations and cooperation between these water company boards and the city have never been better than they are now. It is necessary that I remain on the council in order to retain my places on these water company boards."

Hawkins said the 2.5 million dollar water bond issue on the March 5 ballot is "something we need very badly." He said the bond measure is an outgrowth of 15 years of planning and study. He noted that the city two years ago had to put restrictions on the use of water during the summer when the city's supply reached a dangerous level. Last summer the transfer of water from different reservoirs was necessary to keep up sufficient levels for domestic use.

When asked why the water conservation bond issue did not come before the people one or two years ago Hawkins said, "I couldn't say why." He noted however that a recent study submitted to the city by the water engineering firm of James Montgomery Inc. of Pasadena, has given the city specific locations and size requirements for the proposed reservoirs not supplied before.

Hawkins indicated the March 5 election will be a smooth one with no issues to discuss. He said the people of Upland are satisfied with the present operation of the council as indicated by the usual low turnout of observers at council meetings. The City Council meets every first and third Monday of the month, convening at 7 p.m.

CITIZENS CHARGE

Street Improvement District A 'Hazard'

By E. SCOTT WOOD Of The News Staff

The Upland City Council Monday night got an impromtu progress report on the 23rd St. Improvement District from one of the three home owners affected by the improvements.

Hillis Hauck of 794 West 23rd St. blasted the council, planning and engineering departments for constructing what he termed a "hazard" to the entrance of his drive way.

Hauck said, "As it now stands, the so-called quote improvement unquote, which I vigorously fought against when it first was thrust upon me, has decreased the value of my home and property even though my taxes were raised $350.

Under the City's Improvement Act of 1911, Hauck and two of his neighbors had gutters and sidewalks put in front of their 23rd St. homes at the city's insistance. The city did the work and the home owners are being billed $1,288.60 each.
"I feel that the work done at my site is inadequate, was poorly engineered, was poorly con-structed, is hazardous and un-serviceable at my cost," Hauck

"My driveway is an absolute hazard," Hauck said, "The base of the extreme slope of my driveway is 6" lower than called for on the engineering prints, in-creasing the abrupt drop in my drive, making it impossible to entrance my drive with either my 16 foot trailer or even a utility trailer." Hauck said he has been parking his trailer on the street since he cannot get it into his driveway and has been told by Upland police to remove the trailer.
Hauck said he now has to store his trailer at a commercial storage lot at a cost of $120 per year. "With my $350 raise in taxes, interest on the $1,288 assessed against me and the trailer storage fee I'm required to lay out a good chunk of money because of something being forced upon methat neither I nor my adjacent neighbors wanted," Hauck said.

Hauck also charged some questionable construction tactics and billing was involved with the street improvements.

"There are numerous holes in the driveway asphalt, but not on the street asphalt. I am certain that a different grade or quality of material was used on the drive from that used on the street." Hauck said.

'Much debris is contained in the under-fill," Hauck continued "There are large quantities of junipers in the under-fill, which were scraped up from two doors down the street and used as fill at my property. The man down the street was charged for their removal, and I was charged for them as fill-dirt," Hauck charg-

DONKEY BASKETBALL -- An annual event at Upland High School will take place in the Gym at 7 p.m. tonight. lic hearing on the costs for improvements to the area until the next meeting in order for the City Engineer, Fred Blanchard to investigate Hauck's charges.

The City of Upland has also been charged with going into the Sub-Division business as a proposed industrial development area to be constructed on city owned property was argued in council chambers Monday night.

The argument came when City Manager Elwin Alder asked for approval of a tentative map for a tract consisting of 12 lots (8.60 acres) located at the northeast corner of Benson Ave, and 14th St. in M-1 and A-2 zones. The area in question is located at the end of a runway on the Cable Airport. As pro-posed the tract would have a lot adjacent to the "clear" zone of the runway.

Paul Cable, speaking for the airport argued that the tract map would constitute a danger for planes taking off and land-ing. He reminded the council that a recent aircraft crash in Sacramento where more than thirty children were killed was due to a ice-cream parlor existing in a similar location near the safety zone of the runway.

Cable noted that future plans for the airport include extending the runway and could result in modifying the land parcels near the proposed industrial site so that the city could, with modi-fications, realize the same amount of lots for the site but in a different location.

After a debate between City Manager Elwin Alder who pushed for the plan as proposed and Councilman Hal Bailin who asked for a continuation of the matter so that other tract proposals could be drawn the council approved the tract map as proposed with the exception of the two lots adjoining the runway which will be decided at a later date, according to Upland City Clerk Mrs. Dee Carpenter.

Several questions about the city's legal right to develop an industrial tract were raised after the meeting by local developers. It was questioned whether the city would put in improvements to the property at the taxpayers expense such as sewers etc. which are normally paid for by the land developer.

Ayala Defeats Lewis In Senate Bid

San Bernardino County Supervisor Ruben Ayala was elected to the State Senate over Assemblyman Jerry Lewis in the 20th State Senate District special election last week.

Ayala, 50, a Democrat from Chino engaged Lewis in a bitter controversy over campaign financing and spending. He de-feated the Highland Republican Assemblyman by a margin of 54 to 46 percent.

Ayala's victory will give De-mocrats a 21-19 edge in the state senate. The senate formerly was split 20-20 when the 20th district was represented by William Coombs, a Republican who resigned last October.

Ayala attacked Lewis campaign financing practices in the last two weeks of the election linking Lewis to lobbyists and oil companies in a series of press conferences and newspaper ads. At a press conference held after his victory Ayala said, "This campaign showed that San Bernardino County is not for "The long road back from Watergate begins in San Ber-nardino County," he said. With all 275 of the district's precincts reporting, Ayala had 45,075 votes and Lewis 38,325. Ayala had predicted that a voter turnout of at least 40 percent was needed for him to win the special election and the turnout for last Tuesdays election was reported at 40 percent.

Ayaia will run in the 32nd State Senate District, the reapportioned 20th district. Ayala's reapportioned district will favor a Democrat even more than the 20th district, where Democrats outnumber Republicans 56 percent to 39 percent.

Kenneth Thompson Announces Candidacy For 35th District

Dr. Kenneth Thompson, 36, an associate professor of govern ment at USC has cited what he calls "uncontrolable corporate power, tax laws favoring the rich and powerful and a national priority list that puts military spending ahead of the health and education of the average person" as reasons why he is seeking election to the new 35th Congressional District.

Thompson stated, "When I ran against Jerry Pettis in 1972, I was forced to quit teaching for a half year . . . I can't afford to run and fail. But, in the long run, I also can't afford to sit back and do nothing when this country that I love is in grave danger. We the people have been betrayed by sel-fish, corrupt and self-centered politicians, they will turn away from Democracy in despair."

According to Thompson the issues of his campaign will be the same issues discussed in The plight of the average. powerless citizen in a world dominated by cynical, selfish corporations, insurance companies and governments."

Thompson said, "You can be assured that I won't have any financial support from the vested interests, and I won't promise, if elected, that I can bring back a golden prosperity in my hip pocket to the Pomona and San Gabriel Valleys."

I do promise," Thompson as I see it.' Thompson lives in Claremont

He has been invited to present the results of his research in politics at political science con-ferences in Honolulu, San Francisco, New York and Munich, Germany. He was one of twenty scholars in the nation to be awarded a Ford Foundation Grant for research in 1969.

Thompson served in Washington, D.C. on the Senatorial staff of Republican John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. He also worked in the State Department's African Affairs and Eastern European Affairs Divisions.

Dr. Thompson's experience with the legislative process at the state level was gained during the years he served as Senior Legislative Analyst in the Legislative Research Commission and the Research Staff of the Kentucky State Legislature in Frankfort, Kentucky. In 1972, Thompson defeated two challengers in the Democratic primary in the old 33rd Congressional District. In the 1972 General Election, he was defeated by a three-term incumbent, Republican Rep. Jerry Pettis.

Thompson said, "I don't have much money, but I've got something money can't buy. I've got the friendship and support of some fine people who believe in what I stand for, I welcome the help of everyone who believes in the right to dignity of all our citizens. . . .

Commission Warns Against 'As-Is' Housing

The Montclair Planning Commissions directed the planning staff to write a letter to the Federal Housing Authority warning against the hazards of the FHA selling houses on an "as-is" basis last week.

The action came after John Taylor, 10241 Camulos, noted that the FHA is selling an abandoned house on an as-is basis.

Prior to the recent storm, the County had $501,187 available for such work but spent an estimated $550,000 or $55,000 per day to fund the 10-day, 24hour-per-day emergency effort which included additional equipment obtained on a rental basis. Mayfield noted that of the $599,480 budget only $79,022 had been provided by the State and criticized the formula on which State funds are distributed to the counties for snow operations.

The First District Supervisor pointed out that under the formula, the Counties of Contra Costa, Los Angeles, and Santa Cruz receive a much higher percentage allocation, but spend considerably less than San Bernardino County.

Mayfield also called attention to the inequity resulting from spending such a large sum of money on snow operations in the San Bernardino mountains.

He said the $550,000 expenditure means that 23 percent of the County's road maintenance budget is being expended on only eight percent of the roads.

Devotee: Wise Master, What Is Hatha Yoga

By E. SCOTT WOOD

For what it's worth, the Upland Recreation Department has introduced a Hatha Yoga class in its Winter Schedule.

The six-week course can be taken for whatever worth or value the student places on it, according to instructor Mrs. Linda Bagley, 26, of San Bernardino. The vast majority of my students come to lose weight, and they do," Mrs. Bagley said. "But some students come to gain weight, calm down or are just curious," she continued. "How-ever, each student gets what he or she wants from the course.'

Hatha Yoga, what is it?

TWIST -- Yoga instructor Linda Bagley demonstrates a basic posture or "asana" learned by students in the Hatha Yoga class offered Devotee: Master, in what fash-ion can the vast interchange of the cosmos be exemplified?

Master: (Smiling) Does not the sun dance with the moon? Hatha (Ha-sun; tha-moon) yoga means work with the body. Yoga means a yoke, or union, a bring-ing together of the three parts of the self, according to Mrs. Bag-ley. Through Hatha Yoga one can unite the physical, mental and spiritual aspects of the Self to form a unified, centered whole. Though Hatha Yoga works with different positions of the body, the positions or postures are used as a vehicle to control the mind and spiritual aspects of the Self.

The class, offered each Friday at the Magnolia Recreation Center at 9:30 a.m., is attended largely by women, but according to Mrs. Bagley, the yoga exercises were designed to be done by men, and are in fact completed easier by them.

Mrs. Bagley, a student of yoga for a year and a half, has been conducting classes at Chaffey College and Upland after studying with Carol Williams Kelley of San Bernardino. The classes cover the basic postures and stretches which include shoulder and head stands, twisting movements and proper breathing techniques. Mrs. Bagley also covers proper diet and light meditation in

The postures are called Asanas

in Hindi, in a book entitled "Be Here Now" by Baba Ram Das, the asana is explained: "The word asana is sometimes translated as "easy, comfortable" and sometimes as "seat." It concerns a comfortable seat in which one can remain for long periods of "Asanas are positions. Once you have gotten into the position and made the statement connected with that position, you are there. You become a statue in each asana. "The statue image is a useful one. No matter how unusual the position of the asana may seem to you, once you are in the position then you become totally centered in that position. It, your body, comes to be a position of rest . . . as if you were always in that position, as a statue.

Mrs. Bagley stresses the point that there is no strenuous effort involved in Hatha Yoga. All the movements are done very slowly, carefully and, after a while, easily. Some asanas appear very basic, almost too simple, like sitting and lowering the head to the knees. However, done cor-rectly with proper breathing, the asane is helpful in quieting the body, mind and useful in bringing the spiritual aspect in harmony with the Self.

According to Mrs. Bagley, people take yoga classes for a variety of reasons, placing its worth on their own desires. However, she pointed out that whatever the class is taken for, if practiced regularly, the desired result will come. People have come to lose weight, and have, by utilizing the same techniques of proper diet and exercise. People have also gained weight.

According to Baba Ram Das, "It is well in undertaking work with the body (hatha yoga) to keep in mind these reasons. If in your head you undertake hatha yoga as a form of exercise or body building, you will end up with just what you reached for . . . a more beautiful body. On the other hand, if you undertake hatha yoga as a form of yoga then it will, in a relatively short time, bring about a profound metamorphosis in your body calmness, sensitivity and lightness."

Each asana has a two-fold purpose, according to Mrs. Bagley. The position works on the obvious muscles of the body, stretching and firming, but also works on the internal glands and organs. Therefore the asanas must be done carefully and slowly. A positive aspect of the internal aspect is that the student eventually loses the desire for harmful foods and stimulants such as coffee and cigarettes.

Hatha Yoga, as a science, is thousands of years old. Its techniques are simple, the results are profound.

LIVING ART -- A permanent feature of the Alta Loma High School is the American Indian Motif murals painted on the walls of the Art Department. Under the direction of instructor Mrs. Hansen and designed by Nancy Norreen the mural was started in October and is expected to be completed by the painting class in March. Candidate To Sponsor Coffee Hour Here

Local supporters of Gubernatorial Candidate Herb Hafif will be sponsoring coffee hours at 7 p.m. Saturday Jan. 26 to coincide with the television showing of a 30 minute documentary on the Democratic gubernatorial candidate scheduled on KTLA channel 5.

The William Hyde family of the San Antonio Heights area of Upland are among the estimated 54,000 Hafif supporters throughout the state using the television broadcasts to introduce their friends to the candidate in the first large organizational program of its type.

"Most of us in this citizens movement don't have a lot of political background, but we certainly have the enthusiasm and now the method to take their government back from the special interests," said Hyde. "This gives my friends a chance to really know the man I'm work-ing to elect."

The program will be part of an unprecedented organizing method which will be used in this area as part of a major voter drive that will be conducted throughout the state during the primarily as an organizing method rather than a general communication method.

THE NEWS--BRIEFLY

Carousel Ball Slated

San Antonio Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary has completed plans for their annual Carousel Ball at Griswold's Indian Hill Restaurant Feb. 2. With the theme of "Hearts and Roses" proceeds of the semi-formal dinner dance will go to the building program, new hospital gift shop and auxiliary office.

NEW LOOK -- A "softer" look has been chosen for the management team of the Upland Police Department. Decked out in blazers instead of the traditional "blues," the Police Department Officers will present a more business than military look. Shown from left are Det. Capt. Howard Seay, Chief John Wessely and Capt. Pete Smith.

Veterans Benefits: Some Changes For The Better

Late in the first session of this Congress the Subcommittee on Education and Training sent to the full Veterans Affairs Committee a proposal which would improve the financial condition of veterans seeking further education.

Since the Subcommittee's recommendation was favorable, the full Committee is expected to send the bill to the House floor for consideration early in this session. Passage of the bill is likely as early as February according to Committee sources. The Senate is expected to act quickly also.

The new benefits may well be law by the time fall classes begin this year.

If passed, the bill would increase assistance allowances under all veterans' education programs by 13.6 percent. The last improvement in educational benefits amounted to 25.7 percent in Sept. 1972.

Since then the cost of living has gone up by slightly more than 8 percent. Recognizing this, future changes in benefits would be tied to the Consumer Price Index.

Veterans who are full time college students and have no dependents could expect an increase from $200 per month to $250. Other categories of students would receive corresponding raises in their monthly checks with full-time student allowance for veterans having two dependents rising to $339. Twenty dollars per month would be added for each dependent in excess of two rather than the current $18.

The same benefit increase of 13.6 percent would apply to veterans undergoing vocational rehabilitation, farm cooperative training, apprenticeship or other on the job training. The existing war orphans', widows' and wives' educational programs would also be covered by the proposed increases.

The period during which veterans must complete training would be extended from the present eight years following the last discharge or release to 10 years. Veterans discharged after Jan. 31, 1955 and before June 1, 1966 would have until June 1, 1976 to complete their training rather than having their eligibility expire on June 1, 1974.

Though the proposal is not yet

Though the proposal is not yet law, I do expect the Congress to recognize the necessity for these improvements in veterans' benefits and fulfill its responsibilities to those who served their country.

Local Couple Celebrates 65th Anniversary

The 65th wedding anniversary of a pioneer couple in the Pomona Valley was celebrated at Griswold's Indian Hill Restaurant in Claremont Sunday Jan. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund H. Genung of Upland lived in Pomona from 1906 until 1919 before they moved to their present address.

Mr. Genung came to Pomonain 1906 and was joined by his bride in 1909 after being married in Indianola, Iowa where they met at Simpson College.

Members of the Trinity Methodist Church of Pomona, Genung directed the choir there for 10 years and Mrs. Genung was soprano soloist.

Genung was associated with Wright Brothers and Rice as bookkeeper from 1906 to 1919 and subsequently became affiliated with Southern Service Company in Pomona where he served in various capacities for 40 years, the last 18 of which he was office manager for the corporation.

He retired in 1960. He has also been associated with the citrus industry both in Upland and Pomona.

Mrs. Genung was active in educational circles. She organized and directed the Curriculum Laboratory at Claremont Colleges for 20 years, retiring in 1959. Approximately 200 guests attended the reception which was hosted by the honored couple's children, Dr. and Mrs. Elvin Genung of Claremont, the Misses Marie and Harriett Genung of Upland and their grandson John of Claremont.

Among the many congratulatory messages received was a greeting from President and Mrs. Richard Nixon.

NOTICE TO EDISON CUSTOMERS:

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION ORDERS FURTHER CUTS IN USE OF ELECTRICITY.

Your efforts are helping to save electricity and oil. In December, reduced electric consumption saved the equivalent of about one-half million barrels of fuel oil in Edison generating plants alone.

But now there is a need for even greater conservation. Therefore, the State Public Utilities Commission has ordered an additional 5% reduction in the use of electricity over the original 10% curtailment that it ordered in November.

This means that the Commission is now asking us (and other electric utilities throughout the state) to urge you to cut back a total of 15%.

Immediate Action Urged

The order calls for additional, voluntary conservation efforts by all Edison customers to achieve this 15% reduction in electric usage.

Mandatory Curtailment

The order also requires certain mandatory reductions for commercial and industrial customers, and a few mandatory cutbacks for residential customers. The elimination of outdoor decorative lighting and the operation of fountains applies to residential as well as all other customers. However, commercial and industrial customers are also restricted in their use of advertising lighting, functional outdoor lighting, electricity used for public gatherings, indoor business lighting, and heating and cooling at variance from prescribed levels. Detailed suggestions to help business firms and factories meet the mandatory restrictions will be mailed to them.

You're probably wondering how best to cut back further at home. Here are some suggestions.

How to Measure Electricity

Electricity is measured in kilowatthours (KWH). A KWH is 1,000 watts of electricity used for one hour—or 100 watts used for 10 hours. For example, a 100-watt bulb burned for 10 hours is one KWH.

Last year our average residential customer used about 500 kilowatthours a month. That's about 17 KWH a day. So, to cut back 15% would mean using about 2-1/2 KWH less a day.

1 KWH per meal 1-1/3 KWH per hour

1-1/2 KWH per hour 1/4 KWH per hour 1/3 KWH per hour 13-1/2 KWH per day

> 1 KWH per hour 1 KWH per hour

1/2 KWH per hour 1/8 KWH per hour 2/5 KWH per hour

1/10 KWH per hour 1 KWH per hour 1/5 KWH per hour 3/5 KWH per hour

Keep Your Heat Down

If you've set your heater's thermostat down to 68°, you're saving kilowatthours already (and if you lower your thermostat more when you go to bed, you'll cut back even more). Even if your space heating is not electric, it probably uses electricity to circulate air through your home or apartment. So lowering your thermostat will conserve it.

You Can Reduce Kilowatt-Hours by Cutting Back on Your Use of Appliances

Listed below are some typical appliances and the amounts of electricity they use.

As you can see, a color TV set uses about 1/3 KWH per hour. Use it three hours less, and you've saved one KWH.

A clothes washer uses 1/3 KWH per load. An electric dryer uses 3-1/3 KWH. You can save kilowatt-hours if you delay doing a wash until you have a full load.

An automatic dishwasher uses one KWH per load. By waiting to use the dishwasher until it's full, you'll reduce the number of times you use it and save still more kilowatt-hours.

Use Less Lighting

Switching from 100 to 60-watt bulbs will save 40 watts per hour—per bulb. And be sure to turn off all lights throughout the house when not really needed.

Check the list for other ways to "make every kilowatt count." And for 70 other ways to conserve electricity, send for our free booklet. Write: "Conservation," Edison, P.O. Box 800, Rosemead, CA 91770.

A lot of people don't buy U.S. Savings Bonds because they think it takes them 10 years to mature. Take another look. The old green Bond ain't what it used to be. Now Bonds mature in less than 6 years. That's one reason Bonds are so popular nowadays. They're simple to buy, and one of the surest ways to build a nest egg for something (or someone) special.

U.S. Savings Bonds. Maturity at 5 years. 10 months. If you don't want to use that money right away, there's a 10-year extension privilege. Either way, you'll find that Bonds mature at just the right age for you.

Meet Woodsy Owl. He represents a major step forward in our fight against pollution.

A major step forward in getting our smoggy skies blue again. A major step forward in saving our forests, lakes and wildlife. And a major step forward in improving the quality of our environment. You'll be seeing and hearing a lot about Woodsy. He knows how you can fight pollution ... and he needs your help.

Woodsy has a hooter. When he blows it, it goes Hoot! A Hoot is a pollution stopper. Some of Woodsy's Hoots are: Trees make many things possible, plant a tree. Recycle all cans, bottles and papers. Man paints houses only nature should paint forests. Sh sh sh sh sh sh ...noise pollutes too. Trees and flowers can't hold their breath...smog's a killer. Tuned engines mean less smog. Keep your engines tuned.

In months to come you'll be hearing many more Hoots...over one hundred. If you have good Hoots...practical ways people can fight pollution, send them to Woodsy Owl, U.S. Forest Service, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Give a hoot! Don't pollute.

Montclair Five Routs Chino

HANDS UP -- The Chino-Montclair game was marked by strong board action and a few fouls.

LET'S GO BACK THE OTHER WAY -- Guard Jerard Bryant shows the speed and ball control that helped in Montclair's 65-48 victory over Chino.

hardwood Friday night 65-48 which brings Montclair up to a 3-1 record in the San Antonio League. Chino is now 2-2. The game started the other way around with Chino's Bob Hairson scoring the first points of the game for Cowboys. Mark Gosswiller, 6'6" center for the Cavaliers, bought the next field goal and Hairson countered with another. The score stood at 4-2 for the Chino team. That was the last Chino could even see the Montclair five.

At the end of the first quarter Montclair had reduced that two point hole to a 13 point lead; putting together 14 points in a row, eight of which popped out of the sure scoring hands of Gosswiller.

In the third quarter the Cowboys were able to put in as many points as the Cavaliers but even that fine performance left them 15 points behind.

The fourth quarter was more of the Gosswiller v.s. Chino which had proven so effective in the early game. Gosswiller was high man for the game with 22 points, more than a third of all the Montclair points. Behind Gosswiller were guards

Mike Medeiros, 11 points and Tony Esquibel, 10 points. Leading scorers for the Chino team were center Tim Smith with 16 points and guard Bob Hairson with 18.

Chaffey Five Chalks Up 3-Straight

Chaffey College defeated Palomar 87-69 Saturday night and chalked up their third straight Mission Conference win bringing their Conference record to Coach Barney Newlee's quintet took an early and masterful lead on the hardwood behind the dead-eye shooting of Bob Kovack and Pierre Rankin.

When the Panthers left the floor at halftime with the score at 46-31 the problem wasn't winning the game but keeping the Panthers' starters in the game. Kovack, Rankin, and center Randy Nickolei had each managed to get three fouls with half the ame yet to play.

With the Palomar team within three points and little time left on the clock, the Kovach-Rankin machine of Chaffey shifted into overdrive and ground out 15 straight points that broke the Palomar rally and won the game.

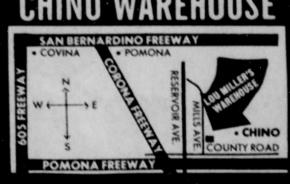

Leading the Panthers in points was Rankin with an impressive 24 points. Following close behind was Kovack and forward Russ Williams with 19 each.

Leading the way for Palomar were guards Marc Pincock, 20 points and Henry Walter, 16.

Chaffey will be on the road this weekend with contests at San Bernardino Valley College and Grossmont College.

Strawberry Cream Tart

Homemade Valentine

Cupid would put down his bow and arrows for this festive Strawberry Cream Tart. But that's alright because you will win the hearts of your favorite people without his help when you bring out this special homemade valentine dessert. It's layer upon layer of tasty surprises assem-bled in a flaky pastry shell. The beautiful topping is glazed fresh strawberries.

Looking very much like the work of a French pastry chef this lovely valentine is easy enough for any cook to make. The home economists for the California Milk Advisory Boardhave seen to that. They've come up with a choice of three ways to make the cream filling. The first is the traditional French style starting out with scalded milk and thickening it with both flour and egg yolks. If you don't have enough self confidence to tackle it that way, there are two other simpler versions for the creamy filling. You can take your choice of doing it with in stant or regular pudding mix. A pastry shell made from a mix is fine for the base. Cover it with the cooled filling and then a layer of sliced store bought pound cake sprinkled with kirsch.

More of the filling and then a whipped cream cover. The top layer is whole strawberries glazed easily with melted currant jelly. This is indeed a pretty homemade valentine.

In case you are tempted into trying the elegant French version of the vanilla cream fill-ing you may wonder what to do with the leftover egg whites. Refrigerate them in a covered jar and on some other special February occasion use them for a meringue shell to fill with your favorite flavor of ice cream. Strawberry Cream Tart

Here's How To Dine The Meatless Way

The crunch is on. The going price and scarcity of meat has opened many eyes, wrinkled many brows and waggled many tongues.

Press LeVerna Lender: The Bulletin; Upland Name; Commange Times; Mantdoir Tribs

This started us thinking.

Why have we put such a high priority on meat? The reason has been to obtain protein. For years we have looked to meat, fish and poultry for that precious body-builder.

The truth is, there is another way to get protein without buying and serving meat. Vege-tarians do it. What's the story?

First, we must understand there are two types of protein-complete and incomplete. Com-plete protein is called "combecause it contains all the essential amino acids needed to build and restore body tissue. Beef, pork, lamb, poul-try, fish and shellfish are powerhouses of complete protein.

Incomplete protein has some of the essential amino acids needed to build body tissue but is lacking in other amino acids. The dietary trick here is that the incomplete protein in one food can make up for the lacking amino acids in another food. Dried peas and beans, rice, grains and even some of our regular vegetables are incomplete protein foods. But, add rice (with about half the amino acids) to beans (with the opposite half of amino acids) and we have a complete protein. The complete protein thus created is then used by the body just as though it were from a meat source.

Most foods contain some protein, even avocados have some. A serving of rice by itself supplies 7 percent of the recommended daily protein allowance (one cup serving), lima beans provide 9 percent of the recommended daily allowance (1/2 cup serving), an average half avocado gives you 2 percent, and 3-1/2 ounces of meat contribute from 30 to 61 percent of your daily protein allowance, depending upon its fat content. Those figures make it clear that the quantities of meat we now consume are above what is actually needed. We developed a Total Vegetarian Dinner as a nutritional balanced meal.

For good health and good flavor, look to the Total Vegetarian Dinner . It's the meatless way to a better, more budget-minded tomorrow.

The Complete Vegetarian Dinner

(Makes 6 servings) 1 cup converted rice 2 cups (16 oz. can) drained green lima beans cup (8 oz. can) green peas cup sliced carrots 1/2 cup fresh mushrooms teaspoon curry powder cups water chicken bouillon cubes

1/2 cup fresh cauliflower flowerets

cup fresh broccoli pieces California avocado

Combine all ingredients except cauliflower, broccoli and avocado in 2-quart sauce pan. Bring to simmer. Cook 35 minutes. Add cauliflower and broccoli. Cook additional 10 minutes. Spoon into heat-proof 2-quart casserole dish. Halve, peel and slice avo-cado. Just before serving time, lay over top of casserole dish.

Serve with corn bread.

'TOTAL DINNER' -- Solve the protein riddle with Total Vegetarian Dinner. Just the right nutritional combinations of foods, this meal is complete without meat, fish or poultry.

Minnie Pearl Headlines Prospector's Days

In her only live, west coast appearance of the year, Minnie Pearl headlines in Knott's John Wayne Theatre for the big Prospector's Days celebration, Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 26-27.

The 16th annual Prospector's Days commemorates the discovery of gold in California 126 years ago.

This special event features · live entertainment at locations throughout the Farm, "The Great Gold Rush of '74," in which all visitors have a chance to go home with a real gold nugget, and be in the cowboy for a day contest.

Minnie Pearl, long a top fix-ture in country and western entertainment, is one of America's foremost country-styled comediennes. Her standard "How-dee" opening line and her outrageously dated costume are trademarks of a performer who, after nearly three decades of popularity in rural America, is now enjoying the applause of a new wider audience.

Also on Prospector's Days bill, Dusty Drapes and the Dusters will accompany Minnie Pearl as well as appear in their own shows.

A country and western band, based in Boulder, Colorado, the Dusters play a nostalgic brand of country music that bridges all gaps, generation and other.

39 Art Works Acquired By Pomona College

Thirty-nine contemporary art works--25 prints and 14 photographs--have been acquired by the Pomona College art department under a $10,000 grant from the Charles E. Merrill Trust, it was announced by Dr. David Alexander, president of Pomona

The art works are the first in a series of contemporary art purchases Pomona College expects to make to enhance its permanent collection, especially in the fields of graphics and photography. The print collection has long been the strongest part of the gallery's permanent collection, with works dating from the 15th century to modern Under terms of the Merrill grant, which was established to encourage working artists and craftsmen, all purchases had to be of contemporary arts and crafts by living and productive artists, although the actual selection of art works was left up to the discretion of the college. The Charles E. Merrill Trust made similar grants to nine other institutions, but the Pomona College grant was the only one on the West Coast.

Dr. David Steadman, former associate director of The Art Museum, Princeton University, who became director of The Galleries of The Claremont Colleges on Tuesday, Jan. 1, and Dr. Gerald Ackerman, associate professor and chairman of the Pomona College art department, took active roles in purchasing works for the permanent col-

The works have been selected as an integral part of a long-range program for Pomona Col-lege," Dr. Ackerman noted. "The aim has been to select works from living artists with a large span of ages, reputations and styles. The new works will greatly increase our ability to teach contemporary art."

The graphic artists represented in the new acquisitions include two Europeans--Yaacov Agam and Jose Cuevas; 12 older Americans -- Jasper Johns, Robert Motherwell, Richard Die-benkorn, Sam Francis, Helen Frankenthaler, Frank Lobdell, > birth defects are forever. unless you help.

Robert Rauschenberg, Philip Pearlstein, Jim Dine, June Wayne and Andy Warhol, and five younger artists--Roy DeForest, Alex Katz, Clayton Pond, Wayne Thiebaud and James Torlakson. The photographers reflect a similar mixture. They include well established photographers like Ansell Adams, Harry Callahan and Immogen Cunningham. There is a group of younger, but established photographers, represented by Paul Caponig, Lee Friedlander, Robert Heineken, Naomi Savage, Jerry Uelsmann and Edmund Teske, and the new tal-ents include Scott Hyde and Geoffrey Winningham.

The criteria for the selection has been two-fold; artistic excellence and usefulness in teach-"We tried to include examples of various styles and of many media -- etching, engraving, lithography, silk screening, silver printing, as well as some of the newer mixed media," Dr. Steadman said.

An exhibition of new acquisitions will open at the Pomona College Gallery in the Gladys K. Montgomery Art Center on Monday, Jan. 21. Many of the Merrill Trust purchases will be included in the exhibition, which will re-main on view until Feb. 24. The Charles E. Merrill Trust was founded in 1956 by the late Charles E. Merrill, a cofounder of Safeway Stores Inc. and the chief builder of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incor-porated, the nation's largest se-curities firm. The trust was formed primarily for the support of secondary and higher education, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish charities, and general charitable programs, including hospital and medical care and research.

GARDEN WALL -- Enhance a fence, a wall, or the side of your house with the interesting pattern of an espaliered plant. Against a heat-catching wall, fruit trees such as thie pear tree do especially well in providing you with delicious fruit besides a pleasant sight,

Flora Roses In The Landscape

Today's rose is ready, willing and able to do any number of jobs for you. There was a time the stiff formality of a rose discouraged its use with other flowering plants. However, today's roses have moved out of the rose bed and into other garden settings.

The following rose types, provided by the California Assocertainciation of Nurserymen ly point up the rose's possible

Hybrid Tea Roses. If any rose still shuns company, this form is it. Classic, formal and haughty, the Hybrid Teas are queens of the rose family. Floribundas, however have many uses. This more compact group of roses is also more floriferous, bearing clusters of blooms in a near continuous show of color. You can border a walk with Floribundas, mass them in beds by themselves, spot them in a sunny border, in the foundation planting and even in containers to decorate your outdoor Pillar Roses, as the name implies, will cover a pillar or post and the versatile varieties will even stand by themselves. There's the standard, popularly called a "Tree Rose."

Climbers, Many of your favorite Hybrid Tea varieties are available in climbing form, providing everblooming beauty to decorate a fence.

Grandifloras are big and showcrosses between the Hybrid Teas and the Floribundas. They're suited for flowering hedges and are especially attractive when grown in raised beds. Don't shy away from using roses in a mixed border. You see some really eye-catching combinations of Roses and Delphiniums, Roses and perennial Phlox, Roses and Stocks or Snapdragons. A little experimentation is in order here. Any C.A.N. nurseryman will advise you which type and variety of Roses will do best for your particular need.

You Can Enjoy Azaleas

Azaleas are among the most widely-planted shrubs in the world. Their profuse flowering habit, plus their value in a variety of land-scape situations, accounts for their popularity. This is especially true in California, where it is possible to enjoy the floral beauty of Azaleas up to half the year.

Nurseries have early-blooming varieties available now, showing color, or heavy with buds. By frequently shopping for Azaleas into spring, it is possible to select plants in flower, which will assure a succession of garden color -- for at least six months -- in future years.

If this sounds more like wishful thinking, the California Assoclation of Nurserymen explains there are some 200 Azalea varieties to be found in West Coast nurseries. There are types suitable to virtually every region of the Golden State. The color choices range from glistening white, through myriad rose, pink and red shades to orchids and lavenders. There are variegated blooms as well as bi-colors; and single and double flowers--some petite, others huge and spectacular.

Though Azaleas are essentially shade lovers, they do best in half-shade or filtered sun. In coastal gardens Azaleas will tolerate more sunlight than in the hot, interior valleys where shadier locations are recommended.

The key to growing success with Azaleas is to provide good drainage for the plants. They appreciate a planting medium with

When You Plant A Wall: Here's How offer so many variations. Against ed on trellises at your local

You have an ideal chance to create something special when planting a garden wall. And you'll be amazed at this back drop to a garden drama that unfolds through the seasons, when you correctly plant on the wall of a house, a retaining wall or board fence.

A wall is something to see, not to hide. Against it, plants create patterns of interest, bloom stands out and visual enjoyment is enhanced.

Take advantage of the many ready-to-use espaliers available in nurseries. Espaliered plants seem to find the greatest favor in wall plantings because they heat-catching walls, many of the edible fruits are first choice. Apples, Pears, Citrus all lend themselves to espaliering, with their ripening fruits as an added attraction against the wall.

Loquats, also edible, are fav-orites as espaliers, their great green leaves standing out. They are less heat tolerant than Citrus, however, if fruit is to be of first quality. Camellias, Pyra-cantha and deciduous Magnolia, all offer the gardener the chance to try his hand at espalier patterns. The varieties of plants available, and already pre-start-nursery, will amaze you. The California Association of Nurserymen suggest blooming vines such as Wisteria for atop a fence. They offer long pen-dulous blooms that hand down en masse in spring. Evergreen Clematis, which follows a fence top and caps it in spring with masses of white bloom.

There are cascading plants for retaining walls and innumer-able choices for base plantings to any wall. Just give each situation some thought -- then check with your neavest nurseryman before you plant.

Gardener's Checklist

1. Certain tender plants may be burned by frost. Do not prune them back until all danger of frost is over.

2. Strawberries, Rhubarb, Artichoke and Vine Berries should be planted now. 3. Make first planting of Gladiclus bulbs, now. Subsequent plantings will provide a succession of blooms.

4. Peaches should be sprayed at least once during the winter rest to prevent leaf curl. The earlier the better.

5. Prune grapes and berries. If you don't know how, ask your nurseryman.
